Grants will be open to nonprofits providing supervised learning for students in Huntsville, Madison, and Madison County schools districts that are operating remotely, running staggered schedules, or temporarily closed because of COVID cases.

We estimate more than 1,000 students are in need of remote learning supervision during these first nine weeks of the 2020-2021 school year. At approximately $200 per week, that's a potential gap of $1.8 million.
